

ALL PHYSICIANS WILL REGISTER

This Is Word County Defence Council Has; Voluntary Service Wanted.

Because of the urgent need of physicians for the army, navy and public health service, all physicians in the United States are to be registered for selective service and placed on a voluntary basis for duty in either of the three departments. This registration will not be affected by age, sex or physical condition, and shall include all of the medical graduates of standard colleges, according to a plan outlined by Dr. Franklin Martin, chairman of the general medical board of the national council of defense.

The definite plans of Dr. Martin have not been received in this city, but Winchester, chairman of the county council of defense, and field director of the Red Cross society for this section, said he understood the registration of the physicians is to be done by the council of defense and that the plan has been approved by the national council and the president.

This registration is intended to extend the service of medical reserve corps to thousands of doctors in the country who, because of health, age or sex, are barred from active service. The plan provides for the registration of every legally qualified physician in the country, holding the degree of doctor of medicine. The plan also provides for civilian service of the doctors.

Must Look After Homes.

With the army and navy calling for so many physicians, it will undoubtedly become necessary to adopt a plan for the registration of all doctors, men and women alike, in order that no community may suffer for want of adequate medical facilities. Mr. Conley said, in France, American doctors working under the Red Cross society are treating the civilian population of France free, except in cases where the patient is unable to pay for the doctor's services, then a nominal charge is made and the amount thus received is turned over to a commission for the support of the wives and dependents of French physicians who have been killed in the war. Arrangements are contemplated by the national council of defense will prevent any such condition arising in this country.

CAPT. WILSON EXPECTS U. S. ORDERS; CALLS BACK MEN

Capt. A. F. Wilson, troop 1, Third Texas cavalry, expects his troop to be federalized within the next few days. Friday he received telegrams and letters from the War Department to the effect that the Fifth and Second regiments were federalized and that he might expect the mustering officer any day.

About 20 of his troopers, growing tired of waiting for orders, had decided to accept work with the Sacramento Lumber company at Clendenburg, N. M. Friday and had gone to the station and tickets had been bought for them when the captain received the telegram, whereupon he telephoned to the station in time to prevent them from leaving.

Capt. Wilson said that no more recruits would be accepted after Saturday. The troop now has 116 men.

Regimental headquarters for the Third cavalry are at Austin, according to a telegram received by The Herald Saturday.

Location of Divisions. As to the location of other divisions, Gen. March said the Eighth division (Pennsylvania) and the Virginia (troops), was training with the British in Flanders; that the 8th (North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois troops), was in process of embarkation, and that the 2d (Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia troops), was in line north of Toul, where it arrived early in July. Reports do not show that the 2d division, he said, has yet been engaged.

Papers Oppose Intervention.

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 17.—German intervention in Russia to assist the Bolshevik government is strongly opposed by the German press of Berlin, which is in close touch with Chancellor von Hertling. The newspaper declares Germany's sole interest in Russia lies in the restoration of order, which is in line with the German policy.

German newspapers of all shades of opinion express themselves as opposing intervention in favor of the Bolsheviks.

ARMY U. S. M. C. A. MEN WILL WEAR BLACK HAT CORDS

The southern department of the U. S. M. C. A. is sending to El Paso black hat cords to be worn by the "Y" workers, and immediately upon their arrival the red and black ones will be turned in. This order comes as a result of a decision of the war work council.

The war department has cautioned all organizations working in uniform in training camps and overseas never to adopt uniform of insignia, and to carry a part of its weight and greatly easing the pull on the vessel.

The latest lightships are provided with powerful and distinctive lights and fog signals. They more nearly approach the lightships in design, having a heavy tubular iron mast surmounted by a lantern, sometimes with a revolving lens supported like a pendulum to hang vertically, so that the light beam will be kept near the horizon regardless of the motion of the vessel. An example of the recently completed Milwaukee light vessel, which shows a double flash every ten seconds. This vessel has a fog signal giving two blasts each minute with intervals of seven and 45 seconds.

Life on a lightship is somewhat dreary, but not without excitement. During every fog for the crew on Nantucket ship know that numerous vessels are headed directly for them, and in a storm, anchored as they are in the open sea, they may be far from comfortable. The men in turn are allowed liberal leave ashore. There are often serious difficulties in getting coal and provisions to the ships, and the crew must be supplied with that they carry sufficient supplies to last over stormy periods.

In 1899 the Columbia river light vessel was stranded near Cape Disappointment, and as it could not be got off in the sea again, it was hauled up and then the land through the woods and launched in the Columbia river.

The lightships, being necessarily near the channel ways, are frequently collided with. In January, 1912, a schooner ran into Diamond Shoal light vessel. The master, in a report, describes the damage done and states that "the steamer and also the cook worked manfully all night in trying to save the mainmast," and that "repairs having been made, the light having been kept burning as usual, and the ship kept in right position, unless very severe weather sets in, the vessel will stay here until relieved."

The directions of the superintendent of lights in 1913 to the master of a light vessel instruct him "not to slip or cut the cable, or suffer it to be done, in any event, and if the vessel should be likely to founder, to abandon her with his crew."

Lighthouses are placed in locations off the coast, where it would be impracticable or needlessly expensive to build a lighthouse, and they usually mark the approach to a port or bay or the outer limit of an off-lying danger. They are also sometimes used in "inside waters," and they may be moved in the channel or close to it, and they have the advantage over most lighthouses, that a vessel may steer directly for them without danger so long as collision with the light vessel is avoided, and also that they may be moved and moved in another position when change of conditions or necessity requires.

The first lightship, the Nora, was established in England in 1722, at the mouth of the Thames. The first in this country was stationed in 1820 in Chesapeake bay, off Willoughby Spit, Sandy Hook, now Ambrose. Light vessel was established in 1822. A light vessel was placed off Cape Hatteras in 1824 and was driven ashore in 1827, and a ship was not established again in this dangerous position until 1873, after unsuccessful attempts had been made to build a lighthouse on Diamond Shoal.

Arizona Apache Indians Battle With Germans Along The Marne

INDIAN SCOUTS WITH PERSHING

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The noble American Indian has again come into his own.

This time he is also stalking the enemy, but the enemy is the Hun and not the white man who invaded his happy hunting grounds.

Many of them were well acquainted with American army headquarters in France, all of Indian scouts who are doing splendid and effective work under Gen. Pershing.

Through distasteful experience, the beche first learned to dread the Canadians, then the Australians and next the Americans, especially the marines.

All this in addition to the natural fighting ability of French, British and Italians.

And then "the Indian menace." Indian scouts, cunning and brave, are known the world over. Added to these qualifications is the special training these Indians received under Pershing during the hunt for Villa.

Many of them were well acquainted with the mountains, deserts and trails down in Chihuahua since the Geronimo campaign and were obtained by Gen. Pershing in 1916, when he went into Mexico after Francisco Villa and his followers, following the attack by Villa on Columbus, N. M.

Apaches From Arizona. A company of Apaches was gathered at Fort Apache, Ariz. The Indians, garbed in tribal costumes and mounted on their own ponies, rode 46 miles to the Santa Fe railroad at Holbrook, Ariz. held a war dance at night and entrained the following morning for Columbus, where they received regulation army uniforms.

Each Apache received a wrist watch and each Apache prized his gift most highly.

The scout company did effective work in Mexico, both in trailing bandits and engaging them when encountered with intervals of seven and 45 seconds.

When Brig. Gen. Robert L. Howze, in his expedition, was promoted to colonel, the Indians hammered out the eagles, his insignia, from Mexican silver dollars.

As the expedition left Mexico, the Indians, mounted on mules, received a great ovation.

When the expeditionary forces went to France the Indian scouts manifested willingness to go along, and Gen. Pershing was quick to take them.

And now they are back at their old jobs, but they are expected to be in the line of duty for the rest of the war.

Not over 200 registrants are expected in both city and county, and all will be required to report for registration at the court house auditorium.

J. A. Escobedo, of the county board, said that if it would be inconvenient for residents of county precincts to come to El Paso on August 24, they could appear at any time before then that they happen to be in the city.

WANTS SERVICE IN FRANCE.

As soon as Dr. Edgar H. Irvin, well known El Paso physician, receives his commission in the army medical corps, which he has passed examination for, he intends to apply for service in France. He has not been informed what rank will be given him, he said Saturday.

CORPORAL SAVES SOLDIER'S LIFE

In Nick of Time Noncom. Throws Companion Away From Bursting Bomb.

Camp Cody, Deming, N. M., Aug. 17.—A Carnegie medal and a commission would not be out of place for Corp. Wm. Harold Vayne, company L, 136th infantry.

He was teaching a squad in hand grenade work in the trenches, when a Spanish-American soldier accidentally dropped a grenade, which the trained eye of the noncommissioned officer saw at a glance would explode in a moment. The frightened soldier flew at once from the perilous position, leaving Corp. Vayne and a comrade to their fate.

Blat Tears Corporal's Hat.

Bravery in the face of great danger was shown at Camp Cody came into play, and the unselfish heroism of the brave young soldier, who saved his companion in danger and threw him around the corner of a "traverse" just as the bomb exploded, tearing two large holes in the top of Corp. Vayne's hat, missing his head by possibly a half to three-quarters of an inch.

As soon as the attention of Col. W. T. McMillon, of the 64th brigade, was called to the brave act, he took the matter to division headquarters, in order that Gen. Johnston might suitably commend the heroic act of the brave corporal.

Long and Pritchard Promoted To Command Infantry Unit Here

N. E. Long, first lieutenant of the El Paso company of the first Texas infantry, received a telegram from Adj. Gen. James A. Harley, Friday afternoon, announcing that he had been promoted to captain, and also that R. J. Pritchard, second lieutenant, had been promoted to first lieutenant.

The promotion of the two lieutenants will be appointed from the ranks of the company, though nothing official could be given out. The company is waiting inspection and muster.

ARMY COMMANDERS GUESTS OF SIGNAL MEN IN CAMP

Gen. Robert L. Howze, district army commander, and Mrs. Howze and their daughter, Miss Harriet, with other officers and their wives, formed a motor party entertained by Maj. E. A. Lehman, commanding the seventh field signal battalion, at the camp of that unit at Anthony, N. M. Friday evening. The party went to Anthony at six o'clock and returned to Fort Bliss about 8:30. Col. and Mrs. A. M. Miller, Col. and Mrs. H. M. Miller, and Mrs. W. D. Rogers, Maj. W. G. Mueller and Lieut. C. D. Ryan.

The seventh signal battalion is marching to its camp near Fort Bliss, after a practice "hike" in the Mesilla valley for several days. Maj. Lehman's home is at Los Cruces, N. M.

REJECTED EVERYWHERE ELSE, EL PASO FINALLY ENLISTS

After vain efforts to enlist in almost every military unit that had been organized in El Paso, and after having been physically disqualified for the draft, Ralph McQuadrer, who has had various minor positions about the federal and state courts here, has at last had his ambition gratified, and been accepted for service with the new Texas infantry. Mr. McQuadrer was formerly chief clerk for the county exemption board.
